

Strike Caller

London

£50,000 + Package

Vacancy ID: 010159

You will step into a visible front end role within an established London design and build contractor turning over £25m and planning further growth. With a £50K salary and £100 commission per appointment, you will be rewarded for creating genuine commercial opportunity.

You will act as the first point of contact for prospective clients, representing a respected brand known for delivering prestigious workplace projects.

What You'll Do

You will engage tenants and occupiers, introducing the business and securing meetings for senior business development colleagues.

You will research organisations, identify decision makers and gather key information around lease events, relocation plans and refurbishment drivers. Your conversations will form the foundation of future commercial fit out projects.

You will work closely with Business Development Managers, ensuring meetings are well qualified and commercially aligned. Accuracy, professionalism and consistency will be central to your success.

You will manage early stage relationships carefully, recognising that trust and credibility are built from the first call.

What You'll Get

You will receive a £50,000 salary plus £100 per appointment booked, creating clear earning potential linked to performance.

You will represent an established brand with a strong reputation in the London workplace sector.

You will join a growing business with genuine promotion prospects as the company expands its market presence.

You will operate within a professional, grown up culture where your contribution to pipeline creation is recognised and valued.

What You'll Need

You must have previous cold calling experience and confidence speaking with senior professionals.

You will have a strong telephone manner and the ability to build rapport quickly.

You will demonstrate relationship management skills and an appreciation for accurate information gathering.

You must be London based and comfortable working full time in the office.

About the Company

You will be joining an established London based design and build contractor with a turnover of £25m and ambitious growth plans. The business delivers high quality workplace projects and maintains a professional, commercially focused culture centred on long term success.

