

Junior Interior Designer
Clerkenwell, London
£30,000 – £40,000 + package
Vacancy ID: 010161

You will join a growing £30M London design and build contractor where your contribution will be visible and valued. This is an opportunity to develop quickly within a close knit team delivering high quality CAT B workplace projects across the capital.

If you want more responsibility, earlier client exposure and a clear path to progression, this role offers that platform.

What You'll Do

You will support a senior designer across CAT B projects ranging from £500K to £5M, working from initial concept through to delivery.

Your responsibilities will include space planning in AutoCAD, 3D modelling in SketchUp and preparing polished client presentations using established templates. You will attend meetings, contribute to creative workshops and coordinate closely with technical and construction colleagues to maintain design integrity.

As you grow into the role, you will take ownership of smaller schemes. You will lead client communication on those projects, manage design development and ensure outputs are delivered on time and to a high standard.

You will report to the Head of Design within a compact team structure that also includes a senior designer and a technical designer who is currently implementing Revit and enhancing digital processes across the business.

What You'll Get

You will receive a salary between £30,000 and £40,000 plus package, including a Zones 1-2 travelcard.

Beyond salary, you will gain early autonomy in a challenger brand with strong growth plans. The business is targeting significant turnover growth over the next three years, creating genuine promotion prospects for ambitious designers.

The culture is professional and grown up. You will be trusted with responsibility, encouraged to contribute ideas and given flexibility within a collaborative Clerkenwell studio environment.

You will also benefit from exposure to improved systems and better technology as the technical function evolves, strengthening your long term skillset.

What You'll Need

You will have prior experience as a junior interior designer, ideally within workplace consultancy or on design and build projects.

You should be confident in AutoCAD and SketchUp and capable of assembling client ready presentations. Creativity, attention to detail and strong organisational skills are essential.

You will be a team player who is comfortable working closely with designers, technical colleagues and project managers. A proactive attitude and a desire to progress into leading projects in your own right will set you apart.

About the Company

You will be joining an established London based design and build contractor with £30M annual turnover, delivering workplace projects from £500K to £5M.

The design team is compact and collaborative, offering direct access to senior leadership and clear visibility of your impact. The business has scaled steadily and has ambitious plans for further growth, underpinned by a reputation for thoughtful, commercially astute design.
